Education Resources Often Missed in a University of Regina Catalogue Search

1. Resources Often Missed

1.1 Reference Books

- The Reference Book Collection includes such items as general and specialized encyclopedias, various guides to educational literature, education dictionaries, statistical resources and bibliographies.
- Because many Reference Books are broad in scope they are often assigned very broad subject headings in University of Regina Catalogue (e.g., "Education - Encyclopedias"). Most library users are not familiar with these broad subject headings or do not think to use them when conducting a search. Individual topics within these books, because they are so numerous, cannot be represented by subject headings in the University of Regina Catalogue catalogue.
- Library users can become aware of these Reference works in the following ways.
  - i. Consult reference staff for assistance.
  - ii. Browse relevant call number areas. For example, if you know that you have found professional books on educational research methodology in the LB 1028 call number area, browse that same call number area in the Reference Collection as well. See also 2. below.
  - iii. Remember that "L" in the Library of Congress Classification System represents the subject Education. "LB" includes works on theory and practice in Education. Logically then, general works on theory and practice would come near the beginning of the LB call number area.
  - iv. Consult the following list, keeping in mind that this is a selected list, and that many other useful reference works are on the shelves.

International Encyclopedia of Education
(REF LB 15 I569 1994) (also on CD-ROM)

Encyclopedia of Educational Research
(REF LB 15 E48 1992)

Encyclopedia of Education
(REF LB 15 E47 1971)

Review of Research in Education
(REF LB 1028 A1R39)

1.2 Serials

- The Serials Collection includes journals, yearbooks, and annual reports. Again, like reference books, these materials are often assigned only very broad subject headings in University of Regina Catalogue (e.g., Education -Yearbooks)
- Library users can become aware of these by using the same techniques for accessing the reference collection as described above, and by consulting the following short list, again keeping in mind, that it is only a small sample of what can be found in that collection.

ASCD Yearbook
(Serials LB 2804 A8)

The Minnesota Symposia on Child Psychology
(Serials BF 721 A1 M545)

National Reading Conference Yearbook
(Serials LB 2365 R4 N3)
Holdings incomplete.

National Society for the Study of Education Yearbooks
(Serials LB 5 N25)

Collection dates back to 1911. Two new yearbooks on different topics are added annually.

New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education

(Serials LC 5201 N44)
